

Middlesex Man Drowns

Waterbury Dam Claims Swimmer

WATERBURY — Adrian Clark, 22, of Middlesex drowned late Sunday afternoon while attempting to swim across the Post Cove in the Waterbury Reservoir with a companion, Gary A. Holmes, 23, of Montpelier.

State police said Clark and Holmes started out together, and Holmes reached the other side before he realized Clark was not with him.

He reportedly returned to their car, parked in a field near the reservoir, to see if

Clark had returned. When he didn't find him, Holmes called state police.

Police in turn called the Waterbury Fire Department which started dragging operations, recovering Clark's body after less than 10 minutes dragging.

An attempt to revive the man with a resuscitator failed.

Clark, an employe of Walker Motors Inc. of Montpelier was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Clark of Middlesex.
